

Programme Outcomes

Empowering young New Zealanders to be the best they can be through integrating our values into everything we do:

BELONGING (Turungawaewae)

- They build positive relationships that respect and include others.
- They have a sense of responsibility within teams of peers and adults that support one another
- They participate and engage

INDEPENDENCE (Mana Motuhake)

- They take responsibility for their choices, behaviour & the consequences these generate
- They build confidence to make good decisions and build resilience
- They gain physical confidence and motivation to be active outside of school sessions (clubs, school teams etc)
- They improve their effort, attitude, focus, discipline and teamwork in the classroom

MASTERY (Tohungatanga)

- They overcome challenges to reach their full potential, feeling success and achievement in unfamiliar environments
- They are motivated to develop their abilities through learning, sharing and refining skills
- They develop skills (physical, social and emotional) that apply to everything else they do, as well as future education and employment.

GENEROSITY (Manaakitanga)

- They show kindness, caring and compassion to others and are willing to share and contribute
- They are more aware of risks, personal safety and the safety of others, and have more respect for outdoor environments

Youthtown for Schools

OutdoorsMark

Safety Audit
CERTIFIED

2018

Our carefully screened and police vetted staff are passionate about developing young people through active engagement. They are experienced and appropriately trained in the activities they are responsible for including all aspects of child safety.

We are Outdoors Mark certified, aligned with the Sport NZ Community Sport Strategy and Young Person's Plan and we are strongly supported by Regional Sports Trusts and Regional Sports Organisations across New Zealand.

We're in over 300 schools across New Zealand!

Here's what they said about us in our March 2018 Survey...

We most like Youthtown's quality of teaching, organisation and enthusiasm. They know what they're doing.

Facilitators in school from Youthtown are role models for our kids. Young kids relate really well to them and it helps them think about things they can aspire to.

They work well with the school to deliver what we would like them to. Most important, the kids love Youthtown.

Youthtown provides personnel, equipment and resources that are otherwise difficult for schools to provide.

With national standards going, that will allow us to expand what we offer in realms of key competencies where Youthtown has a lot to offer.

We have the opportunity to talk with them, explain what we're wanting and they develop the programme around our needs rather than just saying 'this is our package'

I think we underutilise Youthtown as an organisation. I need to sit down with our local (Youthtown) team and explore further. Perhaps I'm guilty of pigeon holing.
